

CHOOSING EARTH

FROM IMMENSE CHALLENGES TO GREAT POSSIBILITIES

Dear Friends of the Future,

Swift action is needed to respond to climate disruption, species extinction, mass migrations, and much more. These challenges are so urgent they require us to mobilize every muscle of human ingenuity, cooperation, and good will. We can do this!

The next great superpower is us — ordinary citizens around the Earth who mobilize our inner and outer capacities and call for unprecedented cooperation and creative action on behalf of all life.

To support a generative conversation around the Earth, we have three important gifts for you — our free film, book, and group guide — that offer a big picture perspective and deep insights for turning our path toward a more inclusive and welcoming future.

*In Collaboration,
Duane & Coleen Elgin*

About Us

Choosing Earth is a non-profit project (501c3) of the Social Good Fund based in Northern California. Launched in 2017, its mission is to expand perspectives and foster inclusive, informed, and robust communication among the people of the Earth in support of choosing our pathway ahead. This project has garnered support from prominent global leaders. Antonio Guterres, the Secretary-General of the United Nations, stated that Choosing Earth is "very much in line with our concerns and priorities."

The next great superpower is us.
